PASTORAL LETTER

Dear BPCWAians,

As God brings more people into BPCWA, there are more areas for us to look into, review, and see how we can be more effective for our Lord and His sheep. As a Pastor, my main focus is on prayer and the ministry of the word. It is always my desire to ensure that this church continues to teach sound doctrinal teaching and provide green pastures for God's sheep.

At the same time, God's calling for a Pastor also includes the rule (Heb 13:17) and oversight of the church (Acts 20:28). God is a God of order, and the Apostle Paul gives instructions to the New Testament church in 1Cor 14:40, "Let all things be done decently and in order." Even in the exercise of spiritual gifts, the church had to ensure that it was done appropriately, decently, and with an arranged and proper sequence. Failing to do so resulted in the Apostle's rebuke on their disorderliness in the Corinthian church. Instead of being a blessing and edification, people did not benefit from God's spiritual gifts. Later on in 1Cor 16:1-5, Paul again instructs the church on matters of administration, this time on the manner of collection and giving. Hence, today, every church must continue to ensure that all things are done in an orderly fashion in God's church, a reflection of the God we serve. This includes how things are arranged and planned. The ultimate aim is to provide the appropriate environment and programs to aid the worship of God, learning of His Word, and service to Him.

So as God grows the church, it is my responsibility, working together with the Session, to continue to anticipate needs and think of ways to improve. And as more people step up to serve, which we are thankful to God for, it can also change the routine of our areas of service. Then there is the addition of families and babies, which have different requirements. At the same time, we must also remember the needs of the seniors in our midst.

There is much that goes on behind the scenes for the above to happen. Many people are involved. For instance, for all these to occur smoothly, there is a need to see how best rostering can be done, improve how people inform the church that they are away and unable to do their duties, and know if we have enough resources. These are examples that we are looking at, for a start. Getting deeply involved in the resourcing, rostering, and information flow has enabled me as Pastor to be intimately aware of the overall running of the church. This is crucial as it helps me to know the operations in order to pray and plan for it, and to help the ministries. More importantly it helps me to make godly informed choices. Ultimately, it is all for a smooth operation of the church in the long run.

When you are unable to be rostered. For example, we now have a web-link, "www.bpcwa.org.au/away" which allows you to simply enter your away dates, areas of service impacted, any replacements, and the rest is taken care of by the church regarding your duty roster. There is no need to wonder who to inform. You can even input the information months ahead if you wish to. But we understand some do not use the internet. In such cases, please inform me, and I will update the team. The church also has a centralised view of all those who serve and their availability. This helps in resourcing and praying for needs. Please do start trying it out now. It also makes rostering a lot easier.

Announcements. We also now have a web-link to which announcements from fellowship groups and ministries can now be sent to a single email, announcements@bpcwa.org.au, and it will be taken care of. Again, there is no need to wonder who to send the information to.

Co-operation needed. But as the number of people rostered increases, it will mean that you will need to check the roster every month for when you are scheduled. Another area we seek your cooperation in is parking. As families with babies and senior's age increase, the need to give priority to them for parking is needed. So, it would be appreciated if you could leave the parking space in front of the church as priorities given to these ones. Finally, do start using the web-link for 2017.

We thank God for the many who have and continue to step up to serve in these needed ministries. Truly, it is a testimony of the body of Christ – that every part fitly joined works to the building up of the church. It is only when we have proven that we are diligent with what we have now, then would the Lord bless BPCWA to the next level. Let us be not be weary in well doing in His Kingdom's work!

Yours in our Lord's service

Pastor
